SARGA SCORES, MISSSES, IN 9 DUEL SERIES

Hungarian Doctor Ends First Two Of Honor Bouts

Sarga Untouched, One Opponent Has Arm Wound

Budapest, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Honor-fighting Dr. Franz Sarga shot one of his nine challenged adversaries in the arm today, embracing a second opponent after both had missed, and ran home aquiver with triumph. He told his wife the score stood two down and seven to go.

Broke, Dr. Sarga borrowed $10 to rent the 14-inch erratic dueling pistols. They were used in the encounters because neither of Sarga's opponents today was strong enough to make passes with the eight-pointed bayonet originally selected.

On the morning, excited Dr. Sarga, he would set hand to saber and whittle the torsoes of the other seven men he charges made so bold as to insinuate he married his heir-ess-wife for her money.

The duels fought today took place in the dusk which made the 16 witnesses somewhat fearful for their own safety, knowing as they did the indiscriminate manner in which the ancient, muzzle-loaded dueling pistols had a way of going off.

In the crackling stubble of a wheat field about ten miles from Budapest, the carload of principals, seconds and witnesses got out and turned on auto headlights so they could see to tamp the powder and balls into the pistols.

The hoppy Sarga and Aladar Hozmat, a bank manager, strode to their position and wheeled. "I warn you gentlemen," the chief second intoned, "you are about to violate the Hungarian law. I urge reconciliation."

Sarga's popping eyes glared through his glasses as he and Hozmat merely muttered. The second counted three and the men brought down their pistols and fired at a distance of 15 paces.

Both shots missed they darted toward each other with little cries and embraces. The honor of the Sarga family had been defended successfully in the first match.

Then out marched Alexander Kovacs, a bank employee, challenger number two. The same razor-sharp was gone through except that this time Sarga's shot found its mark. With a grunt and a groan, Kovacs clapped his tree hand to his pistol arm, nicked by Sarga's bullet.

His injury was not believed to be serious but the wounded man left for suburban St. John's hospital. Just after the second encounter a group of peasants turning along the road were mistaken for police. Warning cries were uttered and the whole entourage jumped into cars and sped back to Budapest.

There Sarga bounced into his home and in a rhapsodic embrace told his wife Magda that he had defended her honor twice successfully.

Mme. Sarga, an expectant mother, wept copiously, her spouse, holding her in his pistol arm, announced grimly: "Well, that's two of them. Now for seven more."

Then he scurried to the telephone to make sure that the other seven would show up tomorrow, police permitting. Splashing and beating his chest in his bath tonight, Sarga asserted "hereafter I will absolutely not take on less than four duels a day. I can't be bothered with fewer."

"Anyway," he said, "I hope they don't arrest me. I'd much rather be shot than stay in a Hungarian jail."

Stalin To Speak Today For Second Time In History

Moscow, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Joseph Stalin, perhaps the most reserved of present day rulers of European states, is scheduled to make his second public speech in history tomorrow at convocation of the eighth (special) All-Union Congress of Soviets.

The congress will meet in the huge Kremlin Palace to approve a new constitution promising "greater privileges for the proletariat." Diplomats and foreign journalists were invited.

Stalin's first and only other formal speech to date was delivered in 1935 when the new Metro (subway) was opened—and that was an unscheduled appearance.

Par-reaching alterations and modifications in the Soviet system of government are provided in the new constitution. It likely will be promulgated early in 1937.

ORDER SEIZURE OF BRENNAN IN GANG SHOOTING

Union Agent Will Be Questioned In Gal- vin Case

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Supervising Police Capt. Thomas Stege ordered today the seizure of Thomas Brennan, business agent of a warehouse workers union. He said he wanted to question him about the killing of Michael J. Galvin, politician and union leader.

Galvin, for years secretary and treasurer of a Chicago teamsters union, was shot "outlaw" by the state's attorney, was shot to death last night by four men riding in a dark sedan.

Brennan represents the Warehouse, Storage and Terminal Handlers, Clerks and Checkers Local No. 1415.

Capt. Stege said Brennan several months ago called a strike of his union, which failed because Galvin's men did not co-operate. The truck drivers under Galvin continued to make deliveries to a warehouse where they were unloaded by non-union men, he added.

The captain said a federal agent had told him Galvin had been approached several days ago by someone who warned him: "You'd better keep your men off the South Water market."

The South Water market is Chicago's principal fruit and vegetable trading place. The captain said he believed a woman might have put Galvin "on the spot." He said he learned the union chieftain was accompanied by a girl when he left his office a few minutes before he was felled by four shotgun charges fired from an automobile.

Miss Genevieve Draper, 24, a comely blonde, was taken to the state's attorney's office for questioning. Captain Collins said she admitted visiting Galvin in his headquarters last night but declined to state how long she stayed or when she left.

Galvin, 55, was secretary of the Chicago Teamsters Union. He operated in opposition to the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. During their feud four labor leaders—"Little Johnny" Gilmore, Patrick Berrell, George "Red" Barker and William "Three Fingers" Jack White—were slain.

Four years ago, State Attorney Thomas J. Courtenay stepped into the controversy. He called Galvin's union an "outlaw" organization. Its headquarters were raided repeatedly. But investigators reported 3,000 men remained in the Galvin fold.

Galvin was the third political chieftain shot to death on the west side in eleven months. State Representative Albert Pringano was slain last Dec. 29. State Representative John Bolton was killed last July 9. Their deaths remain unsolved.

The commission charged had used coercion and threats of boycott to enforce and maintain the price policies. The commission said the effect of these practices had been to deprive ultimate purchasers of the price advantages of free competition.

The distilleries in the commission complaints and asked to explain were Seagram-distillers corporation, New York City, and Seagram distillers corporation of Massachusetts; Gooderham and Worts Ltd., Detroit, a wholly owned subsidiary of Canadian corporation of the same name; Schenley distillers corporation of New York City, and three affiliated companies: Hiram Walker, Inc., Detroit, and National distillers products corporations, New York City.

The commission said the latter company controls subsidiary distilleries and rectifying plants formerly operated by the American Medical spirits corporation, Penn.-Maryland corporation, Inc. Overholt and Company, Inc., and the Old Taylor and Old Crow distilleries.

Allegation substantially the same in each complaint, said the corporations, in order to stabilize and make uniform their resale prices, had fixed specified uniform resale prices, discounts and "mark ups" at which their products should be sold by wholesalers and retailers.

The commission contended price cutters have been reported, blacklisted and agents of the corporations have bought out all the stock of retailers who cut prices.

GERMANS SAY PEACE AWARD REICH INSULT

Nobel Prize Given To Released Nazi Prisoner

Controversy Over Honor May Affect His Health

Berlin, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Nazi government termed award of the 1935 Nobel Peace Prize to Carl Von Ossietzky, German pacifist just released from custody, a "challenge and an insult" in an official statement tonight.

The expression of Nazi irritation asserted that "with Ossietzky the Nobel prize fell for the first time on one who was sentenced by the highest court of his country as a traitor."

The statement promised a further "direct reply" of a nature not revealed. It was distributed as a commentary on an Oslo item by the German news agency briefly announcing the award.

"Bestowing the Nobel prize on a notorious traitor," the statement continued, "is an impudent challenge and insult to the new Germany."

A spokesman explained that since Von Ossietzky's release he was "an unofficial personage," but added: "If disruptive elements wish to rally behind the name of Von Ossietzky, we shall have to reconsider our position with regard to him."

(A committee of the Norwegian parliament selected the prize winners after two of its members—Dr. Halvdar Koht, foreign minister, and Dr. Johan Mowinkel, former Liberal premier and leader of the opposition—resigned to avoid any opportunity of Germany's holding the Norwegian government responsible.)

Although visitors to the huge west-end hospital in Berlin, where Ossietzky was taken after his release from custody, received a courteous welcome, they were firmly discouraged from seeing the pacifist with "he is not seeing any visitors."

Paths to Bungalow 13 where he stays were open just as the others in the far-flung hospital grounds. Neither official nor unofficial Nazi party police were visible anywhere.

Efforts to speak with Ossietzky, however, were courteously turned aside. Whether the award at this time is good for Ossietzky is a matter of grave doubt to him, according to close associates.

A friend who sees him twice a week said: "Ossietzky himself hoped the prize would not be awarded him at present. He has a fair chance for recovery if sent south soon to a higher altitude."

"Now that the Nobel committee has acted, Ossietzky will become the playball of diverging political factions and philosophies, and it is doubtful whether he can remain in obscurity."

Distilleries Are Accused of Price Fixing Practices

Five Major Companies Named by Federal Trade Body

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Five major distilleries were accused today by federal trade commission of fixing liquor prices by unlawful agreements with distributors to "blacklist" and cut off the supplies of price-cutting retailers.

Nad with three of the companies were seven trade associations which the commission charged had used coercion and threats of boycott to enforce and maintain the price policies. The commission said the effect of these practices had been to deprive ultimate purchasers of the price advantages of free competition.

The distilleries in the commission complaints and asked to explain were Seagram-distillers corporation, New York City, and Seagram distillers corporation of Massachusetts; Gooderham and Worts Ltd., Detroit, a wholly owned subsidiary of Canadian corporation of the same name; Schenley distillers corporation of New York City, and three affiliated companies: Hiram Walker, Inc., Detroit, and National distillers products corporations, New York City.

The commission said the latter company controls subsidiary distilleries and rectifying plants formerly operated by the American Medical spirits corporation, Penn.-Maryland corporation, Inc. Overholt and Company, Inc., and the Old Taylor and Old Crow distilleries.

Allegation substantially the same in each complaint, said the corporations, in order to stabilize and make uniform their resale prices, had fixed specified uniform resale prices, discounts and "mark ups" at which their products should be sold by wholesalers and retailers.

The commission contended price cutters have been reported, blacklisted and agents of the corporations have bought out all the stock of retailers who cut prices.

Train Hits Elevated Express In Chicago; Ten Fatally Injured

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A steel constructed train of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee road plowed into the crowded rear wooden car of an elevated express tonight, injuring some 65 passengers and killing at least six.

Physicians said there was little hope for the recovery of some of the others. The three car North Shore train, northbound to suburban Mundelein, overtook the Loyola express as it waited for a traffic signal near the Granville station, on the far north side.

It telescoped the wooden car tossing straphangers along the right of way and some over the elevated span to an alley 20 feet below.

Lights flashed brilliantly for a moment, then the ruins were plunged into darkness. Moans, screams and shouts added to the terror. Flames broke momentarily about the match-wood debris of the express, and firemen and police squads dashed into the rescue work.

Volunteers helped carry the victims to eight hospitals. A like number of police stations sent some 400 officers to 20 ambulances 30 squad cars.

Firemen swarmed up extension ladders from the alley. They hacked at the splintered wood and lifted out the injured.

Some broke off the seat backs in the demolished car and used them as improvised stretchers. A dozen private automobiles carried the victims away to neighboring hospitals which sent up cots in their corridors.

Four patients who escaped uninjured, climbed down from the trains and with the aid of flashlights administered the last sacrament to the most seriously hurt.

Relatives of the injured surged about the elevated span and others stormed frantically into hospitals. At Edgewater hospital, a woman attendant read a list of the patients there to crowds in the lobby and was besieged for more facts.

Police lines struggled to hold them back. Unable to reach the hospital switchboards many of the relatives waited in groups for newspapers carrying lists of the victims.

Volunteers who survived the crash pitched in to aid salvage workers. They tossed armfuls of splintered wood down into the alley, they kicked aside tattered hats and coats and parcels to get at the victims.

Fragments of the demolished car lay along the right of way. The right half of the car was sheared off and lay over the rails.

Physicians and police identified the known dead as:
R. F. Larson, 32.
Miss Mary Mullen, 27.
Quinn Morrison.
Jack Diffendahl, 59.
Vera Lefebvre, 35.
Sam Schwartz, 32.

Found on the six floor of the Edgewater hospital were files and the 20 doctors there were aided by a special corps sent out from the Cook County hospital.

Van Grooms, of suburban Highwood, motorman of the north shore train, was among the injured. Police Capt. Martin McCormick detained an officer to the hospital, but the motorist was not questioned immediately.

George Correll, motorman of the eight car Loyola express, was questioned by Captain McCormick. The captain said Correll told him: "I was due at the Granville station at 6 p. m. I was 15 minutes late. At this point (a switch) I am supposed to cross from track 4 (outer) to track 3. The signal was against me when I approached and I stopped 50 feet from the signal."

"Just then we were struck from the rear. I jumped from the cab and saw sheets of flame along the third rail. I ran down to the switch tower and told the towerman to have the power shut off."

"Then I called the fire department and ran back to assist the injured. Among the survivors was Mrs. Adele Wilson, 32, who suffered a broken leg. She said: "I was standing in the last car holding the back of a seat because I can't reach a strap. I saw this North Shore train coming at us and I hung on for all I was worth. The seat slamed forward and I swayed with it. But the seat behind and five or six men were thrown against me. My leg was pinned to the seat I was holding."

POLICE BY THE "TON"
Summit, N. J., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Sergeant Patrick J. Kelley grinned a very wide grin tonight when he heard that a mere 346-pound policeman in Illinois claimed the title as the nation's "biggest cop."

"You know what I weigh?" was Kelley's oratorical question. "I weigh 429 pounds."

Patrolman Arthur Guenther, who daily pounds the pavements of La Salle, Ill., expressed the belief that his 346 pounds took the national police tonnage title.

Officer John Hutchinson of Ocean township, near Long Branch, N. J., wrote Guenther he could surpass that weight any time he chose. Only his adherence to a 6-week diet kept him at 337 pounds, Hutchinson said.

ADDUCT SENTRY
Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Officers of Fort Meyer, army post near here, disclosed today they were investigating the abduction of a sentry from his post on the night of November 16 and the theft of the sentry's pistol.

The sentry, Private Frank Ayers of Troop E, 3rd Cavalry, was later released. The robber band was believed by army officers to be using the weapon too prey on parked automobiles on Washington's outlying boulevards.

EMBASSIES OF GERMANY AND ITALY CLOSED

Spanish Militia Seize Empty Buildings In Madrid

Fascist Bombing Continues To Wreck City

Madrid, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The German and Italian embassies were seized and locked tonight by armed Spanish militiamen who arrested several political refugees in the German building.

Diplomats representing both Italy and Germany have long since departed Madrid.

The embassies were entered and sealed after the militiamen posted machine guns at the German embassy and roped off the block following upon an ultimatum to put out some 50 Rightist Spanish refugees by 1 p. m.

The militiamen found the Italian embassy empty.

Some of those who had been living in the German embassy were taken out by the Chilean, Netherlands, Norwegian and Rumanian representatives and given refuge in their legations.

The Madrid decision to get refugees from the two embassies was a result of recent recognition of the Spanish Fascist insurgent regime by the two nations.

The Chilean embassy sought cooperation of all diplomats in getting safe conduct for the refugees.

The bustling Spanish move was made a few hours after an air-navy communiqué, by inference, charged German submarines with torpedoing the cruiser Miguel de Cervantes in Cartagena harbor Sunday.

In the evening eight Fascist shells struck in Madrid causing unestimated casualties and property damage.

Overhead 12 light bombers and four insurgent pursuit planes soared apparently seeking only to chart the artillery hits. So far as could be learned they dropped no bombs. Pour low-flying government fighting planes gave chase as the invaders wheeled away.

All the shells struck near the American-owned telephone building. One fell in the Caballero De Gracia wrecking the upper floor of a flat in Rey De San Luis Square; others fell in the Calle Monteria, Calle Hortaleza, and two near the Puerta Del Sol.

Screams of the wounded could be heard.

Gen. Jose Malia, chief of the defense junta, meanwhile published a strongly-worded refusal to recognize the so-called "neutral zone" in Madrid as safe from aerial bombardment. Such a move, he declared, would be tantamount "to right of bombardment in other sections of the city."

While the government was concerning itself with international aspects of the Cervantes incident, fighting continued on the outskirts of the capital.

Insurgent troops, led by tanks, attempted to force their way deeper into Madrid under a heavy barrage. They were met by concerted fire from balconies and rooftops as Madrilenos carried out their leaders' instructions to make "every home a fortress."

Answering a defense contention that the marshal had a valid contract with his county to work prisoners on his farm, the government called to the stand A. B. Carter, chief deputy clerk of Crittenden county, who said there was no such contract on record.

Winfield Anderson, 51-year-old Negro of Earle, first government witness, told of his arrest by Peacher last May. He said he was self-supporting, as did six other Negroes who followed him on the stand with virtually the same story.

HELD WITHOUT BOND
Nebraska City, Neb., Nov. 24.—(AP)—County Judge T. Simpson Morton ordered Mrs. Mary Taylor, 25, held without bond today in connection with the death of her husband Otha, 33, garage mechanic. His nude body was found in a ditch near Nebraska City two weeks ago. He had been shot to death and bound with wire and rope.

County Attorney Edwin Moran asserted he believed Mrs. Taylor shot her husband in bed, hid him in a cave for several days and then tossed the body into the ditch.

Mrs. Edward Leach was a shopper in the city yesterday afternoon from Winchester.

Bulletin

Dublin, Nov. 25.—(Wednesday)—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's long absence, on a projected flight from Ireland to England, caused official Irish fears for his safety early today.

Frank Aiken, Irish minister of defense, expressed concern for the safety of the American flyer, but at the same time expressing an opinion Lindbergh might have landed at an English airport.

Lindbergh was en route from Ireland to his country residence in England.

An earlier report he had landed at Newtownards in northern Ireland could not be confirmed.

TWO MEN MUST RULE HOLDINGS OF SWERINGENS

Death Leaves Vast Rail Empire To Manage

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Two men, well past the average age of retirement, executives of large business holdings, controlled tonight the greatest privately owned rail empire in history—the O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen roads.

Without warning, the death yesterday of O. P. Van Sweringen threw unprecedented financial responsibilities upon George A. Tomlinson, 70-year-old Cleveland shipping magnate, and George A. Ball, 74-year-old Muncie, Ind., glass jar manufacturer. They are relatives.

The pair's resources enabled the brothers, Van Sweringen to recoup their fortunes in 1935 at a securities auction held in New York by the House of Morgan, from which the brothers had borrowed millions.

Tomlinson and Ball joined the Van Sweringens in launching mid-America corporation, a top holding company formed as the Van Sweringens bought back control of their railroads.

The two white-haired men owned all mid-America stock, but the Van Sweringens had an option to acquire a majority within 10 years.

Death terminated the option—with Mantis J. Dec. 12, 1935, and with Oris P. of 1936 yesterday.

Tomlinson and Ball, their brisk manner helping their years, conferred privately today. Their statements: "Ball—I see no reason at present why there should be any separation of the Van Sweringen interests."

Tomlinson—"The railroads are not such a problem, it is the varied other interests that require the most careful consideration. It is rather overwhelming."

Characteristically cautious, Ball and Tomlinson refrained from discussing immediate plans.

"Mr. Van Sweringen's death is a personal bereavement to me," Tomlinson said. "Under circumstances I hardly would be inclined to speculate about the future."

Van Sweringen, he added, made no provision as far as he knew for perpetuating the intricate business empire.

The manifold problems—many routine, many precipitated by "O. P.'s" death—must await funeral services tomorrow at suburban Daisy Hill farm.

A large number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pratt near Oakford Sunday, the occasion being Mr. Pratt's birthday anniversary.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pratt and children, Betty Lou, Richard, Helen and Julia; Mr. and Mrs. John Pratt and children, Charles, Ethel, John Jr., Wanda and Edith; of Kibbourne; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lee; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pratt and children, Melba, Jen., Robert, Shirley and Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Gebhard and children Irwin and Fay; of Oakford; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilkin and children, Esther, Raymond, Beulah, Donna Jean and Lois; J. W. Hoagland of Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Phierog and son James of Bath; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Riley and daughters, Mary and Kathryn; of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey and daughter Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Sorrell and son, Harold and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mail, all of Jacksonville.

A. F. OF L. HITS COMMUNISM AND NAZISM IN VOTE

Labor Federation Pled- ges To Fight Three Doctrines

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 24.—(AP)—An official raid tonight the American Federation of Labor will send a new plea to talk peace to John L. Lewis, rebel union leader, within the next few days.

George M. Harrison, president of the federation's special peace committee, told reporters he would send an "official communication" with this plea to Lewis.

BULLETIN.
The American Federation of Labor termed Communism, Fascism and Nazism "a definite threat to human liberty and to peace" today. It voted to fight the spread of these doctrines with all its strength.

Drawing to a close after disposing of the John L. Lewis revolt issue, the Federation's 56th annual convention declared European dictatorships had wiped out the workingman's liberties and aimed "by force and bloodshed" to subjugate "all those within the nation who may differ."

"Under Fascism, Nazism and Communism, political differences of opinion are held to be treason," the convention's resolutions asserted.

"The world has witnessed the political assassinations and the so-called judicial verdicts by which those in opposition are done away with. The examples are recent and impressive. x x x

Where Communism is in control, differences of political opinion and opposition to the administration are not tolerated. Only recently outstanding leaders in the Bolshevik revolution were charged with treason for doing what is every American's right.

"They were found guilty and executed as a warning to others that there can be but one political party under a dictatorship and opposition to it means death."

The Lewis issue cropped up only once when W. A. Rorer, of the Typographical Union, asked President William Green whether the A. F. of L. would order state federations and city central bodies to expel local rebel unions.

Such a move, he said, would be logical after the convention voted to continue indefinitely the suspension of the ten rebel unions Lewis leads.

Green replied that the A. F. of L. still wanted to make peace and that a previous order to central bodies to keep rebel members remained in effect.

Charles P. Howard, the printers' president and secretary of Lewis' rebel committee, said in an interview the Federation's leaders were "leading the A. F. of L. to destruction" when they voted for continued suspension.

A resolution requested labor representation on all federal, state and local boards administering labor laws.

We Want The Debates

Resolved: That Jacksonville is the logical city in which to hold the 1937 national speech tournament for high school students.

Now that the question has been stated, we will proceed to show why Jacksonville should be awarded this important contest for young people.

Jacksonville is centrally located, a convenient city to reach by train or motor travel. Student teams from north, south, east and west, could converge upon this city with less total mileage than upon any other city which has been mentioned prominently as a site for the tournament.

Jacksonville "rates" the tournament because of its previous interest and remarkable showing in debate. Six times a qualifier for the national debate tournament; twice winner of fourth honors in the national meet, a debate center and one of the recognized leaders in forensic activities in Illinois, Jacksonville High school would qualify as a capable host.

This city has a man who answers all requirements of a local manager, to handle the multiple details of staging a national contest. Harold E. Gibson, debate coach at Jacksonville High school, has become widely known for his success in turning out winning debate teams. He has written a textbook for high school debaters, and is an authority on the subject, his advice being often sought by other school officials.

This community, because of its large number of schools and colleges, knows students intimately. It possesses an understanding attitude toward students such as cannot be found in some cities. Students are always welcome here—for more than one hundred years Jacksonville has been an educational center, so that visiting young men and women find a friendly, sympathetic atmosphere.

Jacksonville is a clean town. It is the kind of city to which parents entrust their children, without anxiety as to their welfare. Students here are as well off morally as anywhere in the country.

We have the hotel and restaurant facilities to accommodate the influx of visitors which annually is attracted to the scene of the tournament sponsored by the National Forensic League. We have halls and auditoriums capable of taking care of the dozens of sessions which operate simultaneously during the tournament.

On all sides of Jacksonville are other cities with colleges from which highly competent men and women faculty members might be secured to act as judges. The national tournament could be staffed properly, with a minimum of difficulty and expense. Jacksonville has adequate telephone and telegraph facilities to carry the increased traffic resulting from a meet of this kind.

The national speech tournament will be held during the first week of May. Assured that the event will be held in this city, Jacksonville would put forth special effort to make it a complete success. This city's citizens and business men take an active interest in educational affairs, a fact which would add impetus to well-laid plans.

Jacksonville wants the national speech tournament badly. It believes that from the record of its high school speech department it is justified in bidding for the 1937 gathering. We feel confident that officials of the National Forensic League, and the hundreds of young men and women, as well as scores of coaches and judges, would find this community a pleasant place in which to get together for the national contests.

We do not believe that rebuttal is necessary. Jacksonville stands on its opening contention that it qualified for the job as host. We believe it has enough points in its favor to win the decision, which would result in naming this city as the site of the meet next spring.

The Man on Foot

The man on foot continues to be the principal cause of automobile accidents in Illinois, according to an analysis of a statewide survey by the State Division of Highways for the first nine months of the year. More than one-fourth of the 11,097 accidents reported were attributed to pedestrians rather than the motorists, although he too, comes in for strong criticism for traveling too fast or too slow, reckless and careless driving.

In the monthly safety bulletin issued by Chief Highway Engineer Ernst Leiberman there were recorded 1,618 deaths and 16,740 injured in accidents in Illinois up to Sept. 1. More than one-third of the mishaps caused by pedestrians resulted in deaths.

There is little doubt but that the average pedestrian of today is too careless on the streets and highways for his own good. This is said as no defense for the careless automobile driver, but there are right and wrong ways of walking, as well as driving. Persons walking on highways should be especially careful that they face the oncoming traffic at all times. The records show that a large number of fatalities have resulted from persons walking on the wrong side of highways, particularly at night.

To aid in its safety campaign the state has placed two state police cars into service. They are for the double purpose of promoting the cause of safe driving on the highways and to provide emergency transport for persons injured in wrecks.

Science vs. Catfish

Experts of the government weather service at Washington are predicting, with customary due caution, that the trend toward warm and dry weather, which has predominated for several years, is now definitely "turning the corner" and we are now headed for a series of colder, wetter seasons. It is a return of the weather cycle, which has a way of getting off the track at times, much as the economic cycle does.

If the corner turns very sharply, therefore, we shall anticipate a winter calling for ear muffs, plenty of skating and sledding for the youngsters, and high fuel bills for papa. Dr. C. G. Abbott, weather expert at the Smithsonian Institute, agrees with other Washington prophets in cautiously forecasting a cold winter.

But listen to the catfish in the Ohio river. Fishermen at Cincinnati are quoted as saying that the catfish they are catching now are thin, an unfailing sign of a mild winter. When the winter is going to be severe, the catfish put on lots of fat and extra poundage.

The migratory birds, also, are acting as if they expect a warm winter. They are in no hurry to take off for the south. They are dilly-dallying around later than usual, pointing to not much ice or snow. The public can take its choice on these two predictions. The scientists and the catfish can't both be right.

What The Railroads Pay

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce has released the second of a series of county-by-county surveys on railroad expenditures, taxes paid, employment given, and purchases. The folder, listing railroad contributions in St. Clair county, was preceded by a similar release on McLean county and is to be continued until the majority of the larger counties in Illinois will be equipped with statistics showing not only the contribution of the railroads, but the benefits of well managed private enterprise in all parts of the state.

The present statement points out that the railroads spend $180 per family in St. Clair county annually. Further, that the railroads employed 4,434 St. Clair county citizens in 1935; paid wages in the county totaling $5,930,518; taxes amounting to $760,805; and purchased supplies in the county totaling $622,224. The wages, taxes and purchases combined totaled $7,313,967, and represented $20,038 spent daily in St. Clair county by the railroads servicing that territory.

"What would happen if St. Clair county lost this seven million dollar spending industry?" asked the transportation division of the State Chamber of Commerce. "Consider the effect on your pocketbook if St. Clair county lost an industry spending $180 annually for each family in this county. The effect on the business man, farmer, professional man and laborer would be disastrous. The taxpayer, already burdened with heavy taxes, would have to shoulder the taxes which the railroads now pay to support schools, aid in road building and carry on other vitally needed functions of government."

Nazi Etymology

Germany has devised a quota system to restrict immigration of foreign words. Not satisfied with that protective measure, Nazi etymologists are "deporting" thousands of words which they regard as alien to make room for 100 percent German words.

An automobile, now "automobil" in German, will become a good Nordic "kraftwagen." "Import" and "export" will become "einfuhr" and "ausfuhr," respectively. Germans will stop calling their opera glasses "opernglas" and begin calling them "nabrglas." A well known metal will appear in public print as "alm (aluminum)" until people get used to saying "alm." Then the parenthetical explanation will disappear.

The name of Dr. Albert Einstein's celebrated theory will follow the great physicist, himself, into exile. Not that Germans now apply Dr. Einstein's name to his relativity theory. They call that "relativitaetheorie." That is not a truly German word, however, so it will give way to a new one—"bezueglichkeitsanschauungsetz." Pretty little thing, isn't it?

Iritis Should Be Treated at Once; Scarring May Affect Vision

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

The iris is the colored portion of the eye. It can become infected and inflamed from various causes. When it is infected, it becomes swollen, dull, and discolored. The pupil gets small, gray, and sluggish.

Pain, radiating to the forehead and to the temple, is worse at night, and there is much disturbance of vision. A person who has an inflamed iris cannot bear to look at light, and his eye is constantly watering.

One of the most common causes of this condition is, of course, syphilis. However, the iris may also become infected by other germs, or rheumatic conditions may be responsible.

It is of the utmost importance to attend to this condition immediately, because the inflammation and the infection may result in scarring. The pupil will either block the pupil entirely or bind the iris down in such manner as to prevent its motion. Obviously this will cause permanent disturbance of vision.

When a doctor takes care of this condition, he applies drugs which relieve congestion and put the part at rest. Dilatation of the pupil will prevent the scarring and tend to break up the small scars that have already formed. Various preparations of atropine are useful for this purpose. There are other drugs, anesthetic in character, which prevent pain. The doctor may also prescribe moist, hot compresses for several hours. This will tend to diminish pain and inflammation.

Of particular importance, however, is systematic treatment of this and other conditions. Syphilis affecting the eye means syphilis elsewhere in the body and demands the kind of consistent and persistent treatment necessary for this condition.

If iritis is associated with a rheumatic condition, the patient must be treated for the general rheumatic disturbance, with the detection, if possible, of the focus of infection of the body and with the elimination of that focus when it is found.

Other types of septic infection may also be controlled. When there is diabetes, treatment of the condition by diet and insulin to control the diabetes throughout the body generally is even more important than treatment of the condition as it affects the eyes.

Once the ailment is cured, surgical operations of various kinds, including plastic operations, may be necessary to bring about normal restoration of the iris and vision.

20 Million Turkeys Slated for Use on Thanksgiving Table

Local Home Bureau Adviser Gives Tips on Methods of Preparation

According to word received by the local Home Bureau adviser, Mrs. Agnes Doherty, twenty million turkeys are slated for Thanksgiving use. This is the largest crop on record, according to reports from the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

With other meat prices in the higher scale bracket and with incomes above those of last year, the turkey is certain to be the center of interest in many meals. How much it will be enjoyed all depends on its preparation and cooking, says Mrs. Doherty.

First of all, thorough cleaning is necessary, says Mrs. Doherty. The family turns "thumbs down" on any pin feathers. Immersing wing tips in boiling water for a few minutes is the easiest way to remove wing tip feathers. A small pair of pliers helps with this task. Pin feathers are removed easily with a strawberry huller. The bird is then singed, washed and wiped thoroughly. Some homemakers prefer to use cold water, while others scrub the poultry with soap and water. Both soap and soda are effective to wash away the surface fat, but thorough rinsing with cold water is required afterwards. Drying the bird thoroughly on the inside prevents the stuffing from becoming soggy.

Trussing forms the bird into a compact mass so that the wings and legs do not dry out during cooking, explains Mrs. Doherty. The best method is to slip the skin of the neck as far back to the body as possible and cut off the neck close to its base.

The skin is then folded over the back of the bird and fastened. The bird is filled with a favored stuffing and sewed up. The wings are folded so that the tips are close to the body and the ends of the legs are drawn together with a long, strong cord. The same cord is then brought around the tailpiece, crossed over the back, run across the upper tips of the wings, then the lower tips and tied across the back.

As for roasting, Mrs. Doherty advocates an even moderate temperature of 300 degrees at all times. About 20 to 30 minutes of roasting is allotted to each pound of bird. The turkey is placed on a rack in a flat, uncovered pan. No water is necessary, according to Mrs. Doherty. If the bird is not quite as brown as desired, the oven may be turned up for the last 15 or 20 minutes of baking. Rubbing unsalted fat or oil on the skin will help to give a shiny gloss.

This method applies to a young light turkey, many of which will be on the market this winter owing to short feed situation, says Mrs. Doherty. She prefers cooking both old and young turkeys with the breast bone down, since this will allow some of the fat to penetrate throughout the bird. However, when old turkeys are roasted the roaster is covered over.

A test for doneness is to thrust a steel skewer into the thigh next to the breast. If the juice is not red, the turkey is done. Use of the low temperature throughout eliminates the need for basting, says Mrs. Doherty, and also follows out the general rule for cooking all meats.

BRYANT RECEIVED POEM INSPIRATION AFTER VISIT HERE

William Cullen Bryant, noted poet and editor of the New York Evening Post for fifty years, received inspiration for his poem, "The Prairies," on a trip from Jacksonville to Pekin, according to an article recently published in a farm magazine, Prairie Farmer.

Grace Bryant of Princeton, Illinois, and grand niece of the nature poet, is the author. She says that her great uncle visited his brother Cyrus three or four times at Princeton. On one of these visits he first came to Jacksonville and visited another brother, John, who accompanied him on a horseback ride of 85 miles to Pekin.

The latter's account of the journey was as follows: "We got part way and found we could not get through for the Indians. Where we camped, we met Lincoln's company of soldiers. The next day while we were riding along, we stopped to pick some wild strawberries and the young horse my brother was riding got away, so we had to walk."

"We followed the horse and met a man bringing him back. This was my brother's (William Cullen) first experience on the prairies and it was that little excursion that caused him to write the poem, "The Prairies."

Local persons have tried to locate the farm belonging to John Bryant in the Morgan County court house records but have failed. READ THE CLASSIFIED ADS.

SOCIAL SECURITY EXPLAINED BY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This is another of a series of articles on the federal social security plan.

48. Question: What will happen if I die before reaching 65?
Answer: Your estate will receive a death benefit equal to three and one-half per cent of your total wages for services after Dec. 15, 1936, in an included employment. Here again as in the case of monthly federal old-age retirement benefits and lump-sum payments, wages in excess of $3,000 a year from any one employer are not counted in the question of the amount of benefits.

49. Q. If my wages are $1,000 a year from an included employment twenty years, after Dec. 31, 1936, and I die before reaching 65, what will my estate receive?
A. You would have as a basis of benefits a total of $20,000 in wages before your death. Your estate would receive three and one-half per cent of that amount, which is $700.

50. Q. Would anything be left to my estate if I died after having received monthly federal old-age retirement benefits for six months?
A. The social security act provides that if you have not received in monthly benefits as much as three and one-half per cent of your total wages, the difference will be paid to your estate. If your total wages are $20,000, you will receive $23.17 a month in benefits after 65, provided you do not engage in "regular employment." In six months you would receive $139.02. As three and one-half per cent of your total wages is $700, your estate would receive $700 less $139.02, or $560.98.

51. Q. If I draw in monthly benefits a total in excess of three and one-half per cent of the wages from employment before 65, will my estate be entitled to a benefit upon my death?
A. No. In that case there would be nothing payable to your estate.

52. Q. Is there a minimum death benefit?
A. No. If a man had wages totaling only $100 for services after Dec. 31, 1936, in an included employment and before he reached 65, his estate would be entitled to three and one-half per cent of $100, or $3.50.

53. Q. Is the death benefit limited in amount?
A. No. While the monthly benefits cannot exceed $85 a month, the law sets no limit to the death benefit, except that only $3,000 in wages per year per employer is counted in the computation of benefits.

Murrayville Hands Rout 30-21 Setback, Keeps Record Clear

Hartong, McWard, Jones, Smith and Donat Given Recognition by Coaches of College Loop

By S. Charles Norris

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(P)—Bradley and Illinois Wesleyan each placed three men on the 1936 all-star eleven of the Illinois Intercollegiate Conference.

Coaches of the 21 conference teams were invited by The Associated Press to choose all-star selections, and named 117 players.

Ted Panish, Bradley halfback and consistent high scorer of the league, received most votes and was placed at fullback.

Ken Chittum, Wesleyan signal caller; Chester Davis, center of Northern Teachers; and Carl Burgen, Millikin halfback, were others who won places on the first string backfield. They were practically tied in the voting, and just a shade in front of Herb Heidman, triple-threat star of North Central.

Heidman's running mates on the second eleven are McConnell of Monmouth, Potter of Augustana, and Kaskas of Wesleyan.

Hunt of Bradley was the overwhelming choice for center while Lesnick of State Normal won the post on the second eleven.

Billy Moore, captain and spark plug of the State Normal gridder, was the stand out of 25 guards named. With him on the first team was paired Charles Gross, nominated by his coach, A. J. Robertson of Bradley, as "the most valuable player."

Joe Yurick of Wesleyan, who played end part of the time, led all the tackles, but was only an edge in front of North Central's Breen.

Wayne Hawkins of Wesleyan and Bill Giraltis of Millikin tied in the balloting for first team center. Right behind them was Augustana's Lenc. The latter was paired with Larson, of Northern Teachers on the second team.

Ten teams were represented on the two squads, which follow:

Modern Mortuary to Open at Greenfield

Shields Memorial Home is to Have Opening on Saturday and Sunday

Greenfield.—One of the most modern memorial homes in this part of the state will be officially opened Saturday and Sunday of this week here, when Shields and Son move into their new headquarters a block from the business district of this city.

The new home, to be known as the Shields Memorial home, has been made from the private home of Hugh Shields, who established the business here many years ago. The size of the building has been increased about 60 percent through the remodeling operation. Mr. Shields and his daughter, Mrs. Shields, who have been in the business for many years, have been doing in harmonizing shades of plum color.

A large casket display room, paneled ceilings and walls, has been added, and is lighted with side lights on the walls and indirect ceiling lights. It has been carpeted in soft shades of red. There is a side drive leading up to the morgue. The remodeling operation also has included the installation of many labor saving devices.

Gustines Furniture company of Jacksonville furnished the rugs and drapes.

The official opening of the new quarters will be Saturday and Sunday of this week. The owners have made arrangements to present each woman who calls with a rose.

HE MAKES RECORD CHASING HUNTERS

Shot Picked from Faces of Men in Accident

Jerseyville.—Fred Mowrey of the Kane, Ill., vicinity claims to be the champion hunter chaser of his community. With the opening of the quail, rabbit and pheasant season in this section of Illinois, there has been a great influx of hunters from cities to the south in the Granite City, Alton, Wood River and East St. Louis district.

Friday and Saturday of the past week Mowrey kept a log of the hunters chased from his farm which is posted against hunters and trespassers. The count at the close of Friday evening was twenty-one groups of hunters, and Sunday was expected to almost double the count with the woods and fields everywhere teeming with men and dogs.

Hunting Accident

Duke Erwin of the Grafton vicinity and Clinton Cope of the Jerseyville locality had shot picked out of their faces as the result of a slight hunting accident near Kane Sunday afternoon.

Erwin and Cope were hunting together along a ridge when a boy who was stalking game not far from them kicked up a covey of quail. The birds made a line for Erwin and Cope and the boy "cut into them."

Most of the shot missed the covey and scattered in the direction of Erwin and Cope. One shot missed Cope's eye by a narrow margin and imbedded itself in his cheek.

Hunter Loses Game

A Missouri hunter was forced to abandon his game after he had shot a wild turkey on Spankey Island late Sunday afternoon and flee from the wrath of residents of the locality.

Wild turkeys are protected by a closed season the year around, and the Department of Conservation has been stocking preserves in northwestern Jersey and southwestern Greene counties.

HARRY HUTCHES TAKES OVER PROPERTY ONCE OWNED BY CITY CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hutches have recently purchased the property, 322 East College avenue, formerly owned by the Baptist church. The house has been remodeled by C. E. Seymour, contractor, into a strictly modern home, with every convenience. The house which occupied the lot was an old style structure with many rooms, small windows and doors.

The present house has six rooms and two baths, with complete laundry room, hot air furnace, and coal room in the basement. Hardwood floors have been added, windows enlarged, and a breakfast room made adjoining the dining room. These improvements, with large closets in all parts of the house, make it one of the choice homes of the city.

F. F. McCarthy, re-elected circuit clerk by a 70 vote margin over Philip Bradish, filed a bond of $10,000, underwritten by a bonding company, Oscar C. Zachary, elected state's attorney, filed a bond of $5,000, also underwritten by a bonding company, and Elmer O. Sample, re-elected coroner, also filed a bond of $5,000, underwritten by private persons, and all of the bonds have been accepted.

Erwin Audenkamp, elected commissioner, already has taken his office.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

HANDEL'S MESSIAH WILL BE GIVEN BY TALENTED CHORUS

Handel's Messiah will be presented again in Jacksonville on Sunday, Dec. 20, at the Central Christian church, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Brown Read, with a fine chorus and soloist of talent, with Miss Alice Mathis as organist.

The rendition of the "Messiah" in this city has become a classic in the musical productions presented in Jacksonville, it grows in beauty with each repetition and is anticipated with great pleasure by large groups in the city and vicinity.

The complete personnel will be announced at a later date.

LOOK, MARY, THIS AD TELLS HOW TO GET WHITER CLOTHES FROM WASHERS. I KNOW YOU'VE BEEN DISAPPOINTED WITH YOUR WASH LATELY

OH, IT'S A RINSO ADVERTISEMENT. BUT I'M ALREADY USING A SOAP LIKE RINSO

IT MAY LOOK LIKE RINSO... BUT IT CAN'T BE AS GOOD. IT SAYS HERE THAT RINSO IS RECOMMENDED BY THE MAKERS OF 33 WASHERS

LISTEN TO THIS: "RINSO GIVES RICHER SUDS IN HARDEST WATER. IT WASHES CLOTHES 4 OR 5 SHADES WHITER." I MUST TRY IT!

FOLLOWING WASHDAY

WELL, HONEY, DID RINSO SOLVE YOUR WASHER PROBLEM?

DID IT! RINSO GAVE ME SUCH LIVELY SUDS, AND MY CLOTHES ARE SO SNOWY AND BRIGHT... I COULD HARDLY BELIEVE MY EYES

LATER

I'VE CHANGED TO RINSO FOR DISHWASHING, TOO. IT GETS RID OF EVERY TRACE OF GREASE IN DOUBLE-QUICK TIME... AND RINSO IS SO EASY ON MY HANDS

If you do not own a washer you have a great surprise in store for you. You can't realize how much easier Rinsol makes tub washing. Its suds are richer, livelier, longer-lasting—even in hardest water. All you have to do is just soak your clothes in active Rinsol suds and the dirt floats right out—safely. White clothes come 4 or 5 shades whiter. Colors come brighter. Even cuffs and edges need only a little gentle rubbing between the fingers to make them spotlessly clean.

This gentle "soak-and-rinse" way makes clothes last 2 or 3 times longer. You'll save money. Rinsol is tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. Get the BIG package. Use it for all cleaning.

Chandlerville Man Held in Beardstown Hospital for Crime

Charged with Burning Farm Buildings at Littlejohn Place Saturday

Beardstown.—Suffering from severe burns on his legs, allegedly the result of an explosion in a machine shed into which he had forced his way by breaking two large locks, Allen Anderson, 23, of Chandlerville was brought to Schmitt Memorial hospital here Tuesday afternoon by Sheriff Gus H. Campbell following his arrest on charges of burglary, larceny and arson.

Anderson will be guarded in the hospital by Deputy Sheriff John Sarff.

Sheriff Campbell said Anderson had been arrested in connection with a $4,000 fire on the A. C. Littlejohn farm near Chandlerville Saturday night.

Cass county officials charge that Anderson, who had been working at the Littlejohn farm, broke locks on a new machine shed on the farm Saturday night. After gaining an entrance to the building, Campbell said, Anderson struck a match which caused an explosion of gasoline. This was followed by a fire that ruined $3,200 worth of farm machinery, including two new tractors and the new building.

Sheriff Campbell said Anderson denied any knowledge of the burglary and fire. On the basis of evidence gathered in the short time after the crime, however, county officials are determined to push the case against Anderson as soon as he is able to leave the hospital.

Hog Market Sets Two Year Record

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(P)—The heaviest hog receipts in two years poured into the livestock market today, but prices held fairly steady.

In anticipation of the yards holiday Thursday, producers shipped 39,000 fresh hogs to market. Despite this big supply, in addition to 3,000 holdovers, many buyers were in the market.

Hogs developed a two-way trend. In early trades those weighing 220 pounds and more sold as much as 10 cents higher, but the advance was lost later. Lights dropped 10 to 15 cents. Top rose 5 cents to $9.85.

Livestock men said the market's strength was the result partly of reports of improved demand for pork and packers' desire to accumulate animals. The holiday and handlers' strike threats were factors favoring accumulation, they said.

Traders largely ignored the bearish influence of increased poultry competition in all branches of the trade. All light steers and yearlings were firm and 10 loads of light yearling steers sold at a new 10 months peak of $12.25, which was 10 cents higher than the recent top. Fed heifers reached $12, also a new high. Weighty steers, however, moved slowly at bare steady prices. Vealers gained 25 to 50 cents.

Lamb were steady to 25 cents higher, top advancing to $9.35.

Stocks Come Back For Slight Gains

New York, Nov. 24.—(P)—Another revival of business hopes counteracted Wall Street's worries over Europe today and Monday's toppling stock market leaders came back for gains of fractions to 3 or more points.

Among the most stimulating of the day's development, coming after the close, was the action of U. S. Steel's directors in voting a payment of $7 a share on its preferred dividend arrearages. Stockholders benefit by more than $25,000,000 and only $9.25 a share now is necessary to clean up the total amount owed on the senior issue.

That the market may have had some inkling of "big steel's" generosity was indicated by the fact that trading, jogging along at a relatively slow pace throughout the greater part of the session, picked up with a rush in the final few minutes and put the ticker tape behind floor dealers.

While the preferred stock finished with an advance of 1/4 of a point at 150, the common climbed quickly from a standing start to 74 1/2, up 21 points.

The flow of favorable disbursement to shareholders was resumed by many other companies, the day's total reaching nearly $100,000,000.

Earnings statements from many quarters also tended to bolster sentiment.

The final upswing brought a net recovery in the Associated Press average of 60 issues of 1 point at 70 1/2. It was off 1 1/2 points yesterday. Transfers totaled 1,924,200 shares, against 2,158,820 the day before.

Upward Hog Price Is Expected By December

A seasonal decline in hog prices as a result of heavy runs of hogs to market is noted by the bureau of agricultural economics in its monthly summary of the hog situation. The number of hogs slaughtered under federal inspection increased sharply from 2,499,000 in September 1935 to 3,500,000 in October. This large increase was partly the result of the larger spring pig crop of 1936 compared with 1935, and partly the result of early marketings of spring pigs following the drought.

The average price of hogs at Chicago in October, at $9.55 a hundred pounds, was about 34 cents lower than in September this year and 28 cents lower than in October a year ago.

Considering the entire hog marketing year—which began Oct. 1—prices are expected to average about the same as or slightly higher than in 1935-36. The seasonal price decline which started in late August apparently has about ended as prices are now showing a tendency to strengthen.

From December to March the price trend probably will be upward. Prices during the summer of 1937 are likely to average higher than in the summer of 1936.

Says Health of Flocks Not Found in Bottles

No drug or mixture of drugs known to veterinary medicine at this time can be depended upon to expel all types of worms which may infest poultry and other animals, Dr. H. E. Moskey, veterinarian of the U. S. Food and Drug administration, told Illinois veterinarians at their annual conference at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

In discussing so-called poultry conditioners, tonics and other products labeled as containing health-giving properties and as being valuable in increasing egg production, he pointed out that health can not be sold in bottle, box or bag. Furthermore, he stated that no known drug or combination of drugs, when fed to poultry, can be considered valuable in increasing egg production.

It was emphasized at the conference that the most effective steps in the prevention and cure of poultry diseases was good, clean poultry management and early diagnosis of any disease outbreaks.

More than 130 veterinarians of the state attended the conference which was in charge of Dr. Robert Graham, chief in animal pathology and hygiene of the agricultural college. A full day of the meeting was devoted to the most recent developments in the solution of the poultry disease problem.

It developed at the meeting that Illinois veterinarians are making a general practice of performing free autopsies where the specimens are brought to their offices. This practice is being fostered in an effort to reduce poultry losses to aid owners in saving money formerly spent for remedies of little or no value.

Will County Feeder Hear Marketing Talks

A meeting of Scott county livestock feeders was held last night at the Scott County Farm Bureau offices at Winchester. E. T. Robbins, specialist in livestock marketing, of the College of Agriculture, U. of I., addressed the meeting on the subject of "Feeding and Feeds."

S. Simpson, field representative of the Producers and a member of the marketing staff of the East St. Louis market, talked on the trends of the market. The session was sponsored by the Scott county livestock marketing committee.

Dollar for corn Sets Values for Substitutes

Livestock feeding authorities at the state agricultural college recommend that any feed purchased to replace corn be bought for less than the price of corn a pound.

Comparative feeding values a bushel for general feeding as listed by the college authorities are: corn $1, wheat $1, rye 80 cents, barley 70 cents and oats 50 cents.

It is explained that this allows for extra cost for grinding the small grain when necessary and allows for variation in pork production by hogs following cattle.

Some mill feeds are listed as suitable to replace dollar corn, such as middlings at $40 a ton and bran at $36. It is pointed out that any substitute requires consideration of the suitability of the feeds for the kind of livestock.

In some localities molasses is reported to be cheap compared with corn. With corn at $1 a bushel, a comparable cost of molasses would be $30 a ton, the agricultural college authorities explain. They point out that molasses can be used to replace only part of the corn.

Achievement Program Tonight At Winchester

A 4-H club County Achievement day will be held at the Winchester Community High school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. tonight. The following clubs of the county will be presented: Home Economics clubs—Clever Cooks; Mrs. Roy Kalschnee, leader; Jolly Juniors, Mrs. William Worrall; Bluffs Busy Cooks, Miss Nina Krusa; Neighborhood Girls, Mrs. Charles Arnold; Agricultural clubs—Manchester Hustlers, James Murray, leader; Blue Ribbon, Elmer Vortman; Peppy Go-Getters, Roy Kalschnee; Bill's Better Best, Wayne Rich; Lone Star, Arthur Walk; Future Livestock Producers, W. J. Moore.

Moderate Gains Scored by Wheat

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(P)—The Chicago wheat market, transformed at the last today from weakness into comparative strength, scored moderate net gains. Indications of better export demand for Canadian wheat were largely responsible for late upturns of prices, and so too was word of dust storms in domestic wheat territory, the Dakotas and Nebraska in particular.

Late estimates were that around 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been bought to be shipped to other countries. There was talk also that France was in the market on a big scale as an importer.

Chicago wheat futures closed firm at the day's top level, 1-1/2 above yesterday's finish, Dec. 117 1/4, May 115 1/4, July 104 1/2-105, corn unchanged to 1 higher, Dec. 105 1/2-106, May new 99 1/4, July new 95 1/4, oats unchanged to 1 lower, Dec. 44 1/2-45, rye 1-1/2 up. In provisions, the outcome was unchanged to 5 cents higher.

At first the wheat market here was dominated by downturns of 1-1/2 cents a bushel at Buenos Aires and by a declining trend likewise at Liverpool and Winnipeg. This was ascribed chiefly to persisting effects of an authoritative estimate that Argentina's 1936 wheat harvest would total about 20,000,000 bushels more than had been looked for.

Eldred Store Robbed
That an organized band of robbers is working in Greene, Jersey, Calhoun, and other nearby counties is the opinion of the entire police force here. There has been a large number of stores and business houses broken into and looted of many hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise in the past few weeks. A check-up of the loss in the robbery of the general store of Ira Davidson in Eldred some time early Friday morning reveals these figures: Cash, $500; tobacco, cigars, and cigars, $150; one shotgun and two gold watches. A front door was forced open and the money taken from an open safe. No definite clue had yet been found Saturday, but it is presumed that it is the work of the same bandits who have been working in this section.

At a social meeting of the Carrollton chapter, Order of the Eastern Star in Masonic temple Friday evening, the men members entertained the ladies with a dinner which was followed by bridge and games.

The committee in charge of the ceremony stated that today's ceremony would be the only one to be held in connection with opening the bridge, denying rumors that another celebration would be held sometime next spring.

Immediately after the opening ceremony the bridge will be thrown open to general traffic. It will not be necessary to stop traffic over the bridge in order to complete the work, the members of the committee said they have been informed.

Steel for the huge structure was fabricated in the plant of the Illinois Steel Bridge Company here and transported to the project by truck and by freight cars. The local company received the work on a sub-contract from the original contractors.

Unusual construction problems faced the engineers in charge of construction. They built the steel out from the two central piers until the two sides came together over the center of the stream, avoiding the usual difficulties of floating the center span into position. Traffic up and down the river was not impeded at any time by the construction.

William E. Mann Dies Suddenly While at Work

Long Time Resident of City Passes Away at Braner Residence Here

William E. Mann, long time resident of Jacksonville, died suddenly about 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of E. H. Braner, 1529 South Main street, where he was engaged in hanging paper. A coroner's jury found that death resulted from a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Mann had been working at the Braner home for several days. Mrs. Minnie Braner, testifying at an inquest conducted by Coroner E. O. Sample at the Gillham Funeral Home last night, stated that on Monday, Mr. Mann had fallen to the floor in a faint but soon recovered. Later Monday afternoon, Mrs. Braner said she again heard Mr. Mann fall to the floor and when she reached the room he was on his feet and said that he had tripped and fell.

Mrs. Braner told the jurors that shortly before 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon she heard Mr. Mann fall and rushed to the room where he was working and found him lying on the floor with a ladder across his body. She said that he had little pulse and expired before Dr. Ellsworth Black, who was summoned, reached the Braner home.

Dr. Black testified that it was his opinion that death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage as he was unable to find any injuries. Dr. Black reached the Braner home about 3:55 p. m., ten minutes after he had been summoned.

Mr. Mann was born in Macon, Mo., March 14, 1866, and came to Illinois when a small boy. For more than 35 years he taught school, holding positions in Alsey and Glasgow, in Scott county and in several rural schools in Morgan county.

After retiring from teaching Mr. Mann engaged in the wall paper and painting business.

Since residing in Jacksonville he has been very active in the affairs of Odd Fellowship, being a member of Illini Lodge No. 4, I. O. O. F. Encampment No. 9, and Rebekah Lodge No. 13. He is at present president of the Morgan County Odd Fellows association.

Mr. Mann was united in marriage with Miss Vivian Greeley, on May 14, 1923, who survives.

He also leaves two children by a former marriage, Howard Mann and Mrs. Percy Jamison of Gardena, Calif.

He was a member of the Christian church at Milton.

Members of the coroner's jury were, Marion Self, foreman; Henry Taylor, Patrick McHatten, E. D. Billings, Orville Smith, Elbert Brasel.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the services will be held at the Christian church in Glasgow and burial will be in the Glasgow cemetery.

Mrs. Mann is a teacher in the Glasgow school.
